

Emmanuel Dotaro
Director of ICT & Security Labs
Thales Secure Communications & Information Systems

Emmanuel Dotaro is the director of ICT & Security labs at Thales Secure Communications & Information Systems. He joined Thales in 2009 as director of innovation for C4I systems. Beside his current research & innovation management activity he is involved in various National and European ICT & Cybersecurity initiatives. He serves in both 5G-IA and ECSO PPP's associations boards as well as various Technical Committees or clusters of the digital ecosystem.

His current areas of interests are network virtualization and softwarization, cloud brokering, security as a service, security policies enforcement in 5G and IoT systems as well as certification, detection, remediation related security topics.