

Ms. Wang Zhiqin
Vice President,
China Academy of Information and Communications Technology

Ms. Wang Zhiqin is the vice president of China Academy of Information and Communications Technology. She is the chair of CCSA wireless technical committee. She has been dedicated to the pioneering research and practice in the field of mobile communications, and she is specialized in the mobile communications technical research and standards. She is the chair of IMT-2020 (5G) Promotion Group in China and the vice chief engineer of “new generation broadband wireless mobile telecommunication” major project.